GUARANTEE for Ferrini Village Apartments

152-196 Ferrini Road San Luis Obispo, CA Unit# _____

For valuable consideration, the undersigned ("Guarantor"), jointly and severally, unconditionally guarantees and promises to pay to Ferrini Village Apartments, or to order ("Owner"), on demand in lawful money of the United States of America and immediately available funds, any "Indebtedness" of _____ ("Resident") to

Owner under the Rental Agreement dated as of _____ /TO BE DETERMINED, together with all extension thereof and all amendments thereto ("Agreement"). The term "Indebtedness" is used herein in its most comprehensive sense, and includes any and all debts, obligations and liabilities of Resident heretofore, now or hereafter made, incurred or created, whether voluntary or involuntary and however arising, whether due or not due, absolute or contingent, liquidated or unliquidated, and whether Resident may be liable individually or jointly, or whether recovery upon such Indebtedness may be or hereafter become unenforceable. Guarantor's obligations hereunder are joint and several and independent of the obligation of Resident, and a separate action or actions may be brought or prosecuted against Guarantor, whether action is brought against Resident or whether Resident is joined in any such action or actions. Guarantor, waives any right to require Owner to (a) proceed against any person, including Resident; (b) proceed against or exhaust any security held from Resident or any other person; (c) give notice of the terms, time and place of any public or private sale of personal property security held from Resident or any other person, or otherwise comply with the provisions of Section 9504 of the California Uniform Commercial Code; (d) pursue any other remedy in Owner's power; or (e) make any presentments or demands for performance, or give any notices of non-performance, protests, notices of protest or notices of dishonor in connection with any obligations or evidences of indebtedness held by Owner as security or which constitute in whole or part the Indebtedness guaranteed hereunder, or in connection with the creation of new or additional Indebtedness. Guarantor also waives any defense based upon: (1) any disability or other defense of Resident or any other person; (2) any lack of authority of any person acting or purported to act on behalf of Resident; (3) any breach by Resident or Owner under the Agreement; (4) any act or omission by Owner or Resident which directly or indirectly results in or aids the discharge of Resident or any Indebtedness, by operation of law or otherwise, other than payment in full of the Indebtedness; or (5) any modification of the Indebtedness, in any form whatsoever. Until all Indebtedness has been paid in full, Guarantor shall have no right or subrogation, and Guarantor waives any defense it may have based on any election of remedies by Owner, which destroys Guarantor's subrogation rights or Guarantor's rights to proceed against Resident for reimbursement. Until all Indebtedness has been paid in full, Guarantor also waives any right to enforce any remedy, which Owner now has or may hereafter acquire against Resident or any other person, and waives any benefit of or any right to participate in any security now held or hereafter acquired by Owner. Any Indebtedness of Resident now or hereafter held by Guarantor is hereby subordinated to the Indebtedness of Resident to Owner. Guarantor authorizes Owner, without notice or demand on Guarantor and without affecting Guarantor's liability hereunder, from time to time, to: (a) alter, compromise, renew, extend, accelerate or otherwise modify the terms of the Indebtedness and/or any provision of the Agreement; (b) take and hold security for the payment of this Guaranty or the Indebtedness or any portion thereof, and exchange, enforce, waive and release any such security; (c) apply such security, and direct the order or manner of sale thereof, as Owner in its discretion may determine; (d) release or substitute any other guarantor of the Indebtedness; and (e) apply any payments received by Owner with respect to the Indebtedness in such order as Owner shall determine in its sole discretion, whether or not any such Indebtedness is secured or covered by this Guaranty. Guarantor acknowledges and agrees that Owner may sell, assign, transfer, negotiate or encumber the Agreement, any Indebtedness thereunder, and/or this Guaranty. This Guaranty shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties respective successors, heirs, representatives and assigns. All payments, advances, costs, and expenses, including reasonable attorneys fees, paid or incurred by Owner in the enforcement of this Guaranty or in connection with the collection of any Indebtedness shall be paid by Guarantor immediately and without demand, together with the interest thereon at the rate of ten (10%) percent per annum. In the event any provision of this Guaranty shall be determined to be invalid, unlawful or unenforceable to any extent, the remainder of this Guaranty shall be unaffected thereby and shall remain valid and enforceable to the fullest extent permitted by law. A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under FCRA. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses a credit report or another type of consumer report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment – or to take another adverse action against you – must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.
- You have the right to know what is in your file. You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your “file disclosure”). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if:
 - a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit report;
 - you are the victim of identity theft and place a fraud alert in your file;
 - your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud;
 - you are on public assistance;
 - you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days.

In addition, all consumers are entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for additional information.

- You have the right to ask for a credit score. Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and report it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for an explanation of dispute procedures.

- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. Inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to report information it has verified as accurate.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information. In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.
- Access to your file is limited. A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need – usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers. A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.
- You may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report. Unsolicited “prescreened” offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-5-OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688).
- The following FCRA right applies with respect to nationwide consumer reporting agencies:

CONSUMERS HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBTAIN A SECURITY FREEZE

You have a right to place a “security freeze” on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization. The security freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a security freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit.

As an alternative to a security freeze, you have the right to place an initial or extended fraud alert on your credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting 7 years.

A security freeze does not apply to a person or entity, or its affiliates, or collection agencies acting on behalf of the person or entity, with which you have an existing account that requests information in your credit report for the purposes of reviewing or collecting the account. Reviewing the account includes activities related to account maintenance, monitoring, credit line increases, and account upgrades and enhancements.

- You may seek damages from violators. If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

States may enforce the FCRA, and many states have their own consumer reporting laws. In some cases, you may have more rights under state law. For more information, contact your state or local consumer protection agency or your state Attorney General. For information about your federal rights, contact:
